Ron Bergman continues to recover at home, following his time of rehabilitation and being diagnosed with Covid. We continue to pray for his strength to return as he awaits a heart valve replacement surgery.

Terry Boerman met with his Doctor this week to review his recent scan. We are thankful for answered prayers for a good report and that he does not have to have another scan until June. Terry will continue with his current regimen of medications.

Howard Johnson took a fall last weekend. We give thanks that he did not sustain serious injury and is recuperating at home. We pray that he regains his strength and makes a full recovery.

Earl Mokma's bone marrow biopsy has been postponed until this coming week. We pray that once it does happen, the numbers show his leukemia is still at zero.

Continue to pray for those battling cancer:
