Ron Lucas' doctors, after reviewing test results and analyzing his cancer, have recommended that Ron receive a program of radiation therapy. Please continue your prayers for these treatments to be effective, giving thanks for the Lord's presence and for the provisions Ron & Sue have seen.

Earl Mokma's bone marrow biopsy went well. He is still experiencing shortness of breath so was scheduled to receive a blood transfusion this past Friday, to raise his hemoglobin count, which should help improve his breathing. Additionally, his body is not recovering from the chemo as much as in the past, so his next round of infusions has been pushed back. They may also reduce the dosage of the chemo pill and have infusions less often because the chemo is affecting the good cells since there isn't much leukemia left to kill. We pray for continued peace as he awaits the results of his biopsy.

Continue to pray for those under Hospice care:
Ron Vos
